Welcome Back

By Mary Baldwin

It's a new year at the Gladys H. Oberle School. Some kids are returning, while some students are here for the first time. Though we have been here for a few weeks now, we are still all adjusting to the rhythm of a new year, and a new schedule. In an effort to find out a little bit more about the school and its staff, I went right to the source. I spoke to our new Vice Principal, Mrs. Vaughn. She was happy to meet with me, despite her busy schedule.

Mrs. Vaughn has been working at ERI for four years now, but this is her first year as Vice principal. She spent her previous years teaching classes. Before she came to ERI,

Mrs. Vaughn worked in special education at a high school for many years. She told me that she is "Absolutely a High school person" She said so with a smile on her face. When asked what she likes most about her job, she took a moment to pause and reflect before answering, "Right now, having the time to be able to brainstorm and problem solve with the students."

I wanted a little advice from her, and when asked what she would tell all the students at the Oberle School, she said "Be patient with yourself, and give yourself a chance to experience success." During our conversation, I could tell that she truly cared about her job and the students here at Gladys H Oberle. After talking to her, I knew that we had a great staff here watching out for us, pushing us to reach the goals we've set for ourselves.

With knowledge like that, I can't help but believe that this year at Gladys H Oberle will be an amazing one.

Shout Out

What do YOU want?

By Carolina C. & Mary B.

Sometimes the clothes a person wears doesn't really say much about the person, but sometimes hearing their goals does. Here are a few students sharing their plans for the year.

Dennis- "Get my Drivers License"

John - "Finish school and graduate."

Brett - "Finish school."

Chance - "Be more talkative"

Grant - "Make Money"

Brian - "I want to finish school."

Carolina - "My goal is to grow as a person. Be more mature."

Mary - "To be more independent, and have a good time."

Scott L- goal this year is too successfully find a job. And also join the military to become a master mind sniper.

Zach - "I want to finish my GIA courses."

Roger - "To finish school"

Tavon - "go home and get back to JM."

Rachel - "My goal is mainly to work towards getting back to public school, and the things I like to do, like working with horses."

Book Crazy

When polled, it turns out the students of the Oberle School like a wide variety of books. Here are the results of the poll.

- Horror - 20 %
- Sci-fi - 10%
- Fantasy- 20%
- Comic Books - 20%
- Non-fiction - 10%
- Romance - 20%

Music Madness

I don't care what you listen to, everybody likes music. Yet everybody's taste is different. Here are the students of the Oberle School talking about what kind of music they enjoy.

Roger - Rap and R&B

Tavon - Rap and Hip Hop

Zach - I got a weird ear for music. I like a variety.

Rachel - Anything really. My favorite band is From First To Last.

Chance - Punk rock and hardcore metal.

Brett - Hardcore

John - Rap and Gospel

Brian - Heavy Metal

Dennis - All kinds

Carolina - Rock and Reggaeton and R&B

Mary " Rock mostly, though I like all kinds. Punk and Rockabilly are my favorites."

Boys VS. Girls

Boys and girls are essentially the same. Both are humans, with only a single chromosome separating them from each other. So why is it Girls and Guys find it so hard to deal with one another? If you ask a guy what he doesn't like about a girl, it usually has to do with how much she talks. With girls, honestly is really important, and guys who lie are high on their hate list. But there is one thing both girls and guys agree on. They both want respect. In my opinion, if we just learn to respect our differences and the very different ways we communicate, then we'd get along much better. It's true, despite all our differences, girls and guys are basically the same. They all want some honest respect. Now is that so hard?
